

Well! How did you do?

1	 A photograph of the facade of the Alamo mission in San Antonio, Texas. The building is constructed of light-colored stone and features a prominent arched entrance with a decorative pediment above it. There are several windows with dark frames.	The Alamo, Texas
2	 A photograph of the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco, California. The image shows a close-up of the bridge's iconic orange-red towers and the suspension cables, set against a clear blue sky and the dark water of the bay.	Golden Gate Bridge, California
3	 A photograph of the ornate, golden-colored architectural details of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, Nevada. The image shows a highly decorative column capital with intricate carvings and a red-tiled roof element in the foreground.	Caesar's Palace, Nevada
4	 A close-up photograph of the Mount Rushmore National Memorial in South Dakota. The image focuses on the carved stone face of one of the presidents, showing his eyes, nose, and mustache.	Mount Rushmore, South Dakota
5	 A photograph of the Statue of Liberty in New York City. The image shows the top of the statue's crown and the sharp, green-patina spires against a clear blue sky.	Statue of Liberty, New York